

PLAGUE GERMS ARE CARRIED BY SQUIRRELS

Ottawa Takes Precautionary Measures In Large Alberta District

OTTAWA, Feb. 12.—(CP)—Discovery that plague germs are carried by the ground squirrel has led to extensive precautionary measures in a 144-mile square Alberta district, the pensions and health department reported Tuesday.

One step, taken in co-operation with provincial authorities, has been removal of the bounty for killing squirrels. Pulling out squirrel tails to obtain the bounty exposed collectors, usually children, to possible plague infection, the department report stated.

OVER LARGE AREA
Dr. R. J. Gibbons and E. A. Humphreys, of the laboratory of hygiene, authors of the report, said that positive findings of disease being carried by squirrels were made in the Stansmore, Alta., district in 1939. The infection was found over an area of "at least 144 square miles."

Dr. G. D. W. Cameron, chief of the laboratory of hygiene, said survey work was incomplete and other areas of infection may yet be located on the prairie.

"It is well that people should be aware of the danger," said Dr. Cameron. "Investigations as to extent of the infection are carried on in co-operation with the province, but it takes a great deal of time for collection of ground squirrels over a territory as large as Alberta. Squirrels killed are examined at the laboratory of hygiene branch at Kamloops, B.C."

PREVENTIVE MEASURES
Preventive measures in the district must be to infected, and which will continue in 1941, included poisoning of ground squirrels over a wide area. Residents were educated as to the danger of handling squirrels and the bounty was removed.

The report noted that a farmer died under conditions suspicious of plague infection, before discovery of the infection among rodents. He kept him and his animals were healthy until he started feeding them squirrels caught in the area now known to harbor rodent plague. Several men then became ill and died. The farmer pulled the dead mice and in doing so scratched his hand.

Forty-eight hours later he suddenly became ill. He died the fourth day after being stricken.

Catania Is Bombed By British Planes

ROME, Feb. 12.—(AP)—British planes bombed Catania, Sicily, last night but the Italian high command claimed today they failed to cause serious damage. Catania "is one of the few towns from which German planes have been reported operating in the Mediterranean."

R.A.F. PLANES BOMB ITALIAN ARMY STORES

Greek Forces Continuing To Hold Off Fascist Counter-Attacks

BY BEN AMES

ATHENS, Greece, Feb. 12.—(RUP)—British planes bombed Italian military stores and pounded the road running northwest from Tepelini, the Royal Air Force command announced today, as Greek forces continued to stand their ground against almost continuous Italian counter-attacks.

The Italians were said to be throwing fresh reinforcements against Greek positions in the rugged mountains of Albania, but a government spokesman asserted that 46 counter-attacks in the past month had not been practically anything.

Italian planes were said to be increasingly active and Piraeus, the port of Athens, still was digging out the dead and wounded. The attack last night gave the ancient capital Athens its first night raid of the war.

It was announced that damage at Piraeus was not important.

The public ministry reported many other raids on Greece yesterday. "Enemy aviation Tuesday raided rural districts of Epirus, taking some victims; Preveza, where there were a few civilian victims and damage to buildings. Larissa, where there were a few victims and damage to buildings. Heraclea of Crete, where there were no victims or damage; the Corinth region, where there were no victims or damage, and Piraeus, where some damage was done. But damage was unimportant," the ministry's communique said.

Today's War Moves

In North Africa. The cracks would be apparent to those inside Italy before they became known to outside observers and some fissures doubtless are discernible.

FUTURE POSSIBILITIES

But if Signor Mussolini raises the question of an armistice at his interview with General Franco, it is more likely to concern future possibilities than the immediate present. A sudden situation might be anticipated by Il Duce that would require an armistice to prevent revolution breaking out in Italy; and it would be advantageous for General Franco to have advance information as to what might act in Italy's interest.

General Franco owes a debt to Italy for the help given in the Spanish Civil War. Undoubtedly he would like to make some repayment if Spanish interests were not thereby jeopardized. Spain would be Mussolini's natural intermediary if future events forced Italy to retire from the war to save the nation from revolt.

It is not beyond reason to believe that Mussolini may wish to give an impression of preparations for a possible armistice to spur Hitler into action against Germany through the Balkans. The Führer's hesitations about helping Italy in her present troubles has been conspicuous. It would be natural for Il Duce to wish for no further delay.

ANOTHER PROBLEM

There is, however, another problem facing Mussolini which concerns also France and Spain. It concerns also the disposition of the remainder of the Italian forces now in north Africa. These remnants of Marshal Graziani's army now are presumably concentrated in and around Tripoli. There must be several divisions that have escaped from Cyrenaica and across the Tripolitanian desert.

If General Wavell continues his offensive to Tripoli, the fate of the Italian troops there will become precarious. If they were to surrender to the British, Mussolini could not conceal from his people that the entire Italian army in north Africa, sent there under such arduous and enthusiastic conditions, had been wiped out by the British. Such a confession could lead to anti-Fascist reactions in Italy of the utmost gravity.

Interpreting War News

WINTER weather is the ally of the British. British strategists appear to count most heavily in starting a diplomatic offensive against the Nazis in the Balkans.

Britain seems to have everything to gain and little to lose by driving Germany into action now, whether that action takes the form of an attempted invasion of Britain or an explosion of the Balkan powder keg.

There remain only a few weeks of severe weather on which Britain can count. If Germany can be driven to action within those weeks, however, the weather might prove the deciding factor in the battle on either front.

In meeting the diplomatic offensive, Britain has already broken off relations with Rumania and appears to be preparing for a similar break with Bulgaria if German troops are admitted to that country unopposed. These steps synchronize with completion of the first phase of the British offensive in Africa. Italian military power in Africa has been utterly smashed. The next largest Italian force in Africa, that in northern and central Britain, is caught in a pincer trap with little hope of escape or relief.

That spells probable release of powerful British air forces from African campaigning to operate against the Nazis in the Balkans if Germany moves across Bulgaria to assist the Greeks in Albania.

There are prime reasons, however, why Germany should still seek to fulfil her army's mission in the Balkans. Ahead of her army mustered along the Rumanian side of the Danube lie two tremendous obstacles to Hitler's war effort.

MOUNTAIN BARRIERS

Bulgaria is spanned from east to west by two rugged mountain ranges, pierced with few passes and cut by utterly inadequate roads, which now are clogged by ice and snow. Those ranges, the Balkans and the Rhodopes, would be difficult for heavy troop movements.

in winter even unopposed. British diplomatic moves leave no doubt that they will be opposed by bombing planes every step of the way.

Even to attempt clearing the Balkan air of British planes would require a large-scale transfer of Nazi air units from west to east. That might force Hitler to abandon indefinitely any plan for an all-out drive against Britain, except at sea.

German failure to accept the British challenge in the Balkans promptly would be a decided blow at Hitler's prestige. It might lead to reshaping even Russian war policy.

The Russian bear might be merely waiting until Germany is heavily engaged in Bulgaria or elsewhere to shake off its winter sleep.

Nazis Get Danish Torpedo Boats For 'Non-Combat' Use
BERLIN, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Denmark has "made available" to Germany a number of torpedo boats for temporary "patrol and marine school duty in the Baltic Sea," a Nazi spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the number of vessels involved was a military secret, but declared they would not be used for combat purposes.

THIS PLEDGE is your window, and this book ten on your table, are badges of honor. They mark you as your household in regular buyers of War Savings Certificates. All loyal Canadians should be Regular War Savers. Give a generous response when your neighbor—your volunteer worker—calls.

WE ARE SAVING FOR VICTORY
The War Savings Committee hereby officially acknowledges the Pledge made by this household to become Regular War Savers and to do their share towards Victory by saving and lending to Canada, to the utmost of their ability for the duration of the War.

W. H. Somerville deGaspere Beaudin
Joint National Chairman

Is your home PLEDGED to save for peace or war?

February has been set aside as War Savings Pledge Month, when every member of every household in Canada will be asked to pledge a definite, substantial sum every week to aid Canada's great war effort.

In addition to the revenue derived from taxation and War Loans, substantial savings from 2,000,000 Canadian pay envelopes will be urgently needed. Every Canadian family must pledge. This calls for sacrifice, perhaps, but no hardship. What you lend, now, can really be regarded as deferred pay.

Your family . . . your whole family . . . old and young . . . will want to enrol in this home army, pledged to work and save and LEND to provide war funds so urgently needed.

Expect a call at your home from an authorized War Savings worker who will ask all members of your household to sign pledge cards. Your caller will give you a window hanger that will identify your home as 100% enrolled for War Savings. And each member of your family will receive a "War Saver" insignia . . . an insignia all will be proud to wear.

Have every member of your household pledge to invest a definite part of his or her income in War Savings Certificates. Have the amount you pledge to lend deducted regularly—every week—from your pay envelope or, every month—from your bank account. Your employer or bank manager will arrange for War Savings Certificates to be sent direct to you from Ottawa.

Every Canadian should enrol NOW to send fighting dollars into our defence line.

STUDENTS SET GOOD EXAMPLE IN WAR WORK

City Pupils Display Pa- triotism in Practical Form, Reported

Edmonton school children have been setting a splendid example to their elders in the reserve trenches of the financial front of Canada's new efforts in the war, it was revealed at a meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board held Tuesday.

More than $2,700 has been raised in city public and high schools through the sale of War Savings Stamp Superintendent of School Ross S. Sheppard announced.

Increased interest shown in recent weeks is demonstrated by the fact that sales set a new record in the month of January when more than $800 was raised.

SPECIAL MENTION

Mr. Sheppard remarked that the efforts of the pupils was worthy of the highest praise and while all schools had made splendid contributions there were two in particular that deserved special mention.

The superintendent named Oliver, with sales totaling $137 and Strathcona with $145, as examples of patriotism in tangible form.

Following are the amounts raised month by month since the campaign started in September: September, $365; October, $525; November, $516; December, $371; January, $820.

ATTENTION DOWN

Mr. Sheppard predicted even more interest in the drive in the future. Decrease in school attendance of 264 was noted during the month of January over the preceding month. The decreases were divided as follows: high schools, 186; intermediate, 91; elementary, 108.

Butter Production Down 2,904,000 Pounds, 1940 Dairy Chief Tells Meet

Canada's creamery butter production for the crop year 1940 totalled 263,810,191 pounds, a decrease of 2,904,000 pounds from the 1939 production, it was disclosed by W. C. Cameron, Ottawa, associate chief of dairy products, grading and inspection services for the federal department of agriculture, in an address Wednesday before the manufacturers' section of the Alberta Dairyfarmers' Association.

More than 500 association delegates are attending the 22nd annual convention which opened Wednesday at the Macdonald hotel and will close Friday.

Mr. Cameron pointed out that 79.7 per cent of the butter graded in Canada during 1940 was placed in first grade, which is slightly higher than compared with the previous year.

In the four western provinces, he said, the percentage of first grade butter was greater than in the other provinces. British Columbia and Alberta had the highest percentage of high scoring butter, with 93.97 and 93.80 per cent of the production, respectively, scoring 93 points or higher.

INCREASE SHOWN

He said that during 1940 20.54 per cent of the butter graded in Canada scored 93 points or higher. This has been an increase in the average of all butter graded during 1940 as compared with 1939 in which 19.11 per cent of the production, respectively, scored 93 points or higher.

19TH COMPANY OF FORESTERS IN EAST MOVE

Hundreds At Station Bid Farewell To Edmonton Soldiers

Hundreds of Edmontonians thronged the C.N.R. station platform and surrounding area on Tuesday to wish "good luck and good-bye" to the 19th Forestry Company, Canadian Forestry Corps (C.F.C.), which left under command of Major J. H. Poirer for an undisturbed eastern Canadian destination.

On the same train was No. 20 Forestry Company, under Maj. M. Stuchlik, which had come from British Columbia.

An impressive parade from the Prince of Wales Army provided departure of the foresters.

PARADE HAS BAND

The parade was headed by the Edmonton Fusiliers (A.A.) under command of Lt. Col. Hareus Stuchlik, band V.C. and 1st under command of Major J. H. Poirer, the regimental pipe band headed the unit.

At the head of the Forestry Company marched the regimental band of the 2nd Battalion, Edmonton Regiment, under command of Lt. Col. R. W. H. Hareus, M.C., officer commandant.

On arrival at the station the Fusiliers presented a column through which went the Forestry Company, their waiting cars.

PROVINCE MAY STUDY PLAN TO EASE TAX LOAD

Up until the present, the provincial government has given no consideration to exempting Dominion income tax payments from the scope of the Alberta Income Tax Act, according to information received by the province.

It is reported that at the Saskatchewan legislature session, a bill to amend the income tax act will be introduced, which will exempt Dominion income tax payments from the provincial levy. It is estimated that 20,000 farmers would be benefited and that thousands of dollars will be left in their pockets as a result of this move.

If the Alberta government decides on such action, it probably will be within the next few days, but observers feel this is unlikely, while the province is expected to introduce a bill to exempt Dominion income tax payments from the provincial levy. It is estimated that 20,000 farmers would be benefited and that thousands of dollars will be left in their pockets as a result of this move.

THE QUESTION
The Ringling-Barnum circus, "biggest show on earth," is streaming into Alberta from the province of shows and effects are getting a thorough modernization of design and style. All the time, however, it will be the same old show or would you rather have a new one in the old-fashioned manner?

THE ANSWERS
LESLIE JACKMAN, an Edmontonian returned, I like it the old-fashioned way. There was something about the smell of the big top and its whole setting that made the circus what it was. Of course, circuses used to be the events of a child's lifetime, and now they are not. I remember driving all day with home and wagon to see a circus here when I was very small.

MARGARET NEWBARD, student: I think the circus should be all right when it is in the province as we get new types of tents with modern designs. I think it will make the show easier to see. The circus can be the circus, and still be light-hearted and amusing.

ALEX. CAMPBELL, furrierman: He will be nice to see the circus. I think it will be a good thing to see the circus. I think it will be a good thing to see the circus. I think it will be a good thing to see the circus.

During their stay in Edmonton they will be under the care of W. J. Elliott, provincial superintendent of junior clubs.

PRODUCTION FOR BUTTER DROPS, 1940

ward Island, Nova Scotia and the three prairie provinces, there was an increase in creamery butter production during 1940 compared with 1939. Decreases were recorded in New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia.

In order to supply demands from the British Ministry of Food for cheese and condensed milk, it is the considered opinion of many in the industry that an increase in the total production of milk must be achieved. Creamerymen can also make a substantial contribution toward an increase in butter production by increasing vigilance in eliminating all available waste and loss of butterfat.

He paid tribute to the high efficiency of butter manufacturers and cream producers, but added that under present conditions some of the workers may be unfairly placed by inexperienced men who do not yet fully appreciate the need for clean milk-making in order to keep at a minimum the fat loss in the manufacture of butter.

First sectional meeting to get under way Wednesday was the joint meeting of the butter and cheese makers' associations. The meeting was formally opened by President D. Macleod, Macleod's name was honored with a life membership of the association at its annual convention last year.

Following the reading of the annual report and minutes of the last annual meeting Dr. E. G. Wood, chief of Dairy Research Service, federal department of agriculture, Ottawa, dealt with reasons behind the details of butter-making in order to keep at a minimum the fat loss in the manufacture of butter.

H. B. BURDEN ICE CREAM MEN H.S. PRESIDENT

H. B. Burden, Woodland Dairy, Edmonton, was elected president of the Western Ice Cream Manufacturers' association at the annual meeting which concluded Tuesday at the Macdonald hotel.

Other officers elected were W. G. Carruthers, Regina, vice-president, and E. J. Carberry, Regina, secretary-treasurer. The following executive members were elected: Alberta—T. W. Johnston, Calgary; Manitoba—C. D. Edmondson, British Columbia—A. Young, Victoria; Ontario—M. A. Young, Toronto; Saskatchewan—G. Bruce and C. W. Johnston, Winnipeg; Saskatchewan—A. Lewis, Regina, and W. P. Colwell, Saskatoon.

Administration of the Dairy Producers Act as it applies to ice cream was discussed by W. C. Cameron, Ottawa, dairy products grading and inspection service.

Report on general conditions of the industry showed that substantial gains had been made in ice cream production.

It was pointed out that approximately one per cent of all butter fat produced in Canada was used in the making of ice-cream, and that the majority of this manufacture was in the summer months.

Most productive butter fat months of the year. This was due to the fact that the production took up considerable of the over-production and helped stabilize the butter and cheese market during the high production period.

BILLS BEING PREPARED FOR LEGISLATURE

Solicitors to the attorney general's department are drafting the government's legislative program to be submitted to the house during the session opening on Thursday.

Other bills being prepared are: A new consolidated bill dealing with operations of automotive vehicles in the province to be brought in.

A bill also is to be brought in providing for income tax amendments on the installment plan and free of interest charges.

Although the report of the McGilivray Royal Commission investigating the entire oil industry of the province likely will be the basis for some discussion, there will be no major legislation in this connection.

There will be an amending bill to the School Act, incorporated in this will be provision for public education, coupled with saluting of the flag, according to reports.

In the last year some attacks have been made on the Debt Adjustment Act, and there may be some amending legislation in the coming session.
